

I am trying to assemble a complete set of 2007 vintage ports for an upcoming article in my bimonthly International Wine Cellar publication, which is now read by wine lovers in all 50 U.S. states and 35 countries.

I thought I'd contact you directly and ask for your help in arranging to send my your 2007(s) to me through your U.S. importers. Hopefully, your U.S. agent already has these wines—or at least samples of them—in the U.S. market.

Your U.S. importer is almost certainly aware of my publication and would have my mailing address on file, but here it is, just in case they need it:

Stephen Tanzer

Telephone: 212-772-0454

I would like to have all samples in hand by November 25, but the sooner the better. I plan to do my tastings in early December and publish an article with tasting notes on the International Wine Cellar website shortly after that.

Thanks in advance for your help.

Best regards,
